

NANKING HAS FALLEN TO THE CHINESE REBELS; FOREIGNERS IN DANGER

Fearful of a Massacre They Have Bar- ricaded the Streets Leading Into Their Concessions

HOMES LOOTED AND MANY NATIVES BUTCHERED

Han Yang in Hands of Imperialists and Manchus Started Fearful Slaughter---Revolutionists in Vicinity of Nanking are Avenging the Recent Massacre.

Shanghai, Nov. 28.—The rebels rushed the Nanking fortifications today and captured the city after a desperate hand-to-hand fight, in which 700 imperialists and 500 revolutionists were killed.

Advices from Han Yang today say foreigners have barricaded the streets leading into their concessions and are preparing to offer desperate resistance in case of an anti-foreign outbreak. Maxim guns have been mounted by the foreigners, and it is believed that a vigorous attack could be withstood.

Peking, Nov. 28.—A brutal slaughter of foreigners as well as Chinese, is threatened at Han Yang, where the imperial forces are looting homes and killing all natives suspected of being in sympathy with the rebel cause.

Foreigners are making mad efforts to get out of the danger zone, but the chance of escape is slight should the Manchu forces begin a massacre. The situation is generally regarded as being more critical than at the time of the Boxer uprising.

Han Yang is completely in the hands of the imperialists. There has been frightful slaughter and the revolutionists are fleeing in all directions. Many of them have crossed the river to Wu Chang. It is believed that Wu Chang is certain to fall.

General Li, commander of the revolutionaries is reported to be preparing to flee to Shanghai. The defeat of the revolutionaries is said to have been due to a disagreement between the revolutionary leaders of troops from Hunan and Hupoh.

There has been severe fighting for four days in that territory. The imperialists have been strongly reinforced with guns and men. The River Han was crossed by pontoons and the imperial troops met determined opposition. The casualties on both sides are conservatively estimated at 2,000.

Lieutenant General Feng Kwo Chang commander of the imperial troops at Hankow, telegraphed today that he had occupied the whole of the city of Han Yang at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Wu Chang capitulated to the imperial troops today, the revolutionary leaders expressing a desire to negotiate for a compromise and suggesting some slight alterations in the government program.

The government is endeavoring to secure an immediate cessation of hostilities at Nanking, where the fall of the city is imminent.

There is much jubilation in official circles over the sudden successes of Lieutenant General Feng Kwo Chang. The merchants are overjoyed at the prospect of a resumption of business and the re-establishment of order with the removal of the terrible menace to the lives of foreigners in the interior of the country.

At Wuchow, near Nanking, the revolutionary soldiers are avenging the recent massacres. They are beheading many prisoners.

ADD China. Nov. 28.—Terrible slaughter has marked the fighting at Nanking, according to cable messages here today. The reports say that 3,500 regular soldiers and 300 civilian volunteers have been killed. The rebels have penetrated through the inner walls and today engaged in a hand-to-hand struggle with the imperialists in the streets of Nanking. The rebel navy was this morning prepared to bombard Nanking.

Shanghai, Nov. 28.—Rear Admiral Murdoch is sending a company of day morning. The jury recommended mercy which means that Gilmore will receive a life sentence in the penitentiary without hope of parole or pardon.

Gilmore was arrested east of this city by Wagonman George McGure and Turnkey Hager in the early morning following the shooting of Smith. It developed at the trial that Gilmore was in the habit of calling on a Newark girl and he was enroute to her home when arrested.

Newark officers were called to Zanesville during the trial to testify in the case.

OHIO PROGRESSIVES WILL CONTEST TAFT ORGANIZATION

Columbus, Nov. 28.—Ohio progressives today took their decisive step in the contest of the Republican state organization and the Taft support to submit the national congressional delegates to a direct presidential preference primary. Secretary John D. Packler of the state progressive league, the organization of Senator Robert M. La Follette in a communication to Chairman Walter Brown of the Republican state central committee asks that a special meeting of the committee be called to take up the plan of delegate selection in this communication it is asked that representatives of the Taft organization and the La Follette organization be present at the committee conference and decide either to elect delegates at large by a direct primary vote or take a vote which will show the preference for presidential candidates and have the delegates officially bound in honor to represent this preference. Packler called attention to the fact that Chairman Brown, himself devised this plan in 1908 when it was used by the Taft organization to run ex-Senator Foraker out of the running for the presidential nomination.

JEWETT COMPANY TURNS OUT FINE TRACTION CARS AT WEST END PLANT

Herewith is given a half-tone reproduction from a photograph of one of the 23 cars shipped from the Jewett Car Company's plant in this city for use on southern railroads. This car is for the Piedmont and Northern traction lines at Piedmont, N. C., and when completed, cost about $18,000. This car has four compartments, made necessary to comply with the "Jim Crow" laws of the Southland. The trucks of standard gauge and the cars were shipped on their own wheels to their destination. At the time of the shipment of this consignment of cars, there were shipments ready to go forward from the local plant to Washington, D. C., Long Island City, Philadelphia, Pa., Alliance and Dayton, Ohio.

WITNESS TELLS OF SHOOTING

Corroborates Mrs. Pat- terson's Story of Being Knocked Down

TWO WERE QUARRELING

The Woman Fired After Strug- gling to One Knee---State Testimony in.

Denver, Nov. 28.—The taking of testimony at today's session of the trial of Gertrude Gibson Patterson for the alleged murder of her husband was delayed an hour beyond the usual time when attorneys for both sides conferred with Judge Allen as to the charge he was to give the jury.

Mrs. C. A. Jones, who testified yesterday was recalled today and compelled to admit that Jones was not really her husband's name or her own. She said her own name was Burnwell and that her husband had been tried in Denver and other places for horse stealing.

Mrs. M. K. Pattersons, mother of the slain man, was called to the stand and testified that she had paid all expenses during her son's illness except for a period of two weeks. Judge Allen in making his charge gave an exposition of the law defining murder in the various degrees.

"A fool there was and he made his prayer, even as you and I, to a rag, a bone and a hank of hair, we called her the woman who did not care, but the fool called her his lady fair— and she shot in the back," was the charge to the jury. He declared that it was no sixteen year old girl who had won the devotion of Millionaire Strauss but a mature woman. He declared that a saloon keeper was Mrs. Patterson's first lover.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 28.—The defense in the Patterson murder case placed on the stand today a witness of the shooting of Chas. A. Patterson by his wife, Gertrude Gibson Patterson. He is Francis J. Easton, who came from Minneapolis to appear in Mrs. Patterson's behalf. He was in Denver the day of the shooting, he testified.

Easton corroborated the story of Mrs. Patterson, that she had shot her husband after he had struck her and knocked her down, and was standing over her with his arm raised to strike again.

Easton said that he had gone to the sanitarium at which Patterson was a patient and had started for a walk in the neighborhood. Some distance from the sanitarium he observed a man and woman apparently quarreling.

When he was 300 feet from the pair he looked back and saw the woman reading a newspaper clipping, he said. She handed the clipping to the man, and he struck her in the face. A second blow felled her.

She struggled to one knee, he said and fired twice. After a short pause she fired two more shots he said.

On cross-examination Easton said he had seen A. B. Shugart, the witness of the shooting, placed on the stand by the state, running to the spot, but had not gone over to the

STANLEY COMMITTEE WILL SUBPOENA THE REV. F. T. GATES AND QUESTION HIM CONCERNING MERRITT CHARGES

Portrait bust of the Rev. F. T. Gates, by William Couper.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 28.—The Rev. Frederick T. Gates, for a long time in charge of the charitable work of John D. Rockefeller, will be subpoenaed to appear before the Stanley committee that is conducting the inquiry into the steel trust. He will be questioned concerning the charges made by the Merritt Bros., that he aided the oil magnate in squeezing the Merritts out of railroad property worth more than $6,000,000. Mr. Rockefeller has issued a statement denying the charges, but Mr. Gates has so far remained silent.

FINANCIAL RECORD OF THE DEMOCRATIC STATE ADMINISTRATION

Columbus, Nov. 28.—Democratic efficiency and economy have rescued the state from threatened bankruptcy and restored the finances to a healthy condition, according to the 1911 report which State Treasurer Creamer will shortly make to Governor Harmon.

The total receipts for 1911 were $12,037,293.01, and the total expenditures $12,832,343.21, the receipts being $104,940.04 in excess of the expenditures. In the two years preceding, the expenditures exceeded the receipts by $1,529,967.34. In 1909 the receipts were $11,282,812.79 and the expenditures $12,315,967.76, the expenditures being $1,032,254.97 more than the receipts. In 1910 the receipts were $11,561,122.77 and the expenditures $12,074,235.14, the expenditures being $507,712.37 more than the receipts.

In 1909 and 1910, Republican general assemblies were making appropriations and it is now plain they loaded the treasury to embarrass a Democratic administration.

The Democrats also fell heir to an immense debt in the shape of extensive building operations started by Republicans.

The most pleasing feature of the report is that which shows that, of the $1,470,170.21 increase in revenue, $1,148,797.09 is from the corporations in the shape of excise and capital stock taxes. This increase is in addition to the property tax, corporations will pay into the different county treasuries. Figures have been obtained which show that the property tax of the farmer and home owner has been reduced $7,000,000 annually and that a corresponding increase has been made to corporations.

In addition to the enormous increase to the state's revenue from the excise and capital stock tax, the Creamer report shows that there was an increase of $321,373.15 in the departments of the commonwealth—due entirely to economy and zealousness in looking after the people's interest.

An excellent showing was made by the state charitable, benevolent and correctional institutions, which increased their revenue $211,761.09. This was due to the enforcement of the pay patient law—which was a dead letter in Republican administrations, and to Treasurer Creamer's policy of compelling miscellaneous receipts at the institutions to be paid into the state treasury. Heretofore they were paid out for maintenance by institution heads. The pay patient law brought in an additional $158,151.67 and the miscellaneous receipts were increased $53,609.42.

A wretched showing was made by Auditor Fullington, who, although the enormous task of collecting the excise tax and other work relating to taxation was taken from him, increased the salary roll of his office; and this was done despite a recommendation by Governor Harmon in his 1911 legislative message that Fullington's force be reduced.

In 1910, when Auditor Fullington collected $2,066,425.62 his salary roll semi-monthly averaged but $1,687.12, while in 1911 when his force collected but $1,710.60, the average salary was $1,813.87, an increase of $126.75.

BRITAIN'S ROW WITH GERMANY

England's Foreign Sec- retary Admits Europe Was Close to War

NOTHING WAS WITHHELD

Parliament Crowded With Dis- tinguished Outsiders to Hear Sir Edward Grey.

London, Nov. 28.—Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state, for foreign affairs, in a quiet and unassuming manner—the manner which belongs to the British parliament—but with intense impressiveness, laid bare in the house of commons yesterday afternoon the part Great Britain played in the negotiations over Morocco, which brought Europe very near to war during the summer. At the outset, he referred to the disclosure by the German foreign minister, Herr Von Kiderlin-Waechter, of the conversations which had taken place between the German ambassador and himself. This disclosure, he said was not complete and he was under the necessity of putting more fully before the house of commons the part taken by the British foreign office.

The house was crowded with members and the gallery with distinguished outsiders, including most of the diplomatic corps, every one of whom hung on the words of the foreign secretary. Nothing was withheld. Sir Edward stated, frankly that the greatest anxiety had existed, but fortunately he was able to add that the negotiations had cleared the slate between Germany and Great Britain.

Anxiety was not constant, but intermittent, and was caused by the fact that the negotiations might at any time reach a deadlock. It looked on one or two occasions as if a deadlock could not be avoided. If that had some power signatory to the Algeiras act might have suggested a conference, the course of which, Germany, which had been sounded on this subject said might not be acceptable.

"That," declared the foreign secretary, "is what caused the anxiety, for we have a situation wherein the partition of Morocco might begin without agreement, between Germany, France and Spain."

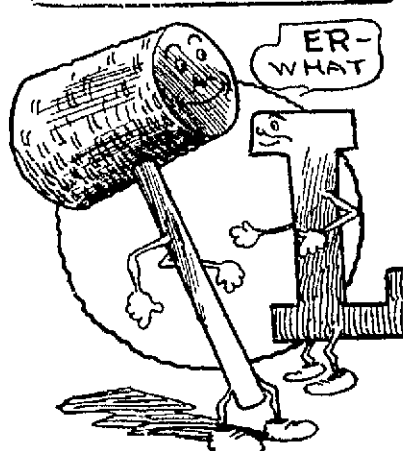

Great Britain, he continued also received information which gave rise to apprehension that the settlement contemplated by Germany might be the partition of Morocco, which arrived at the partition of Morocco, which was not by negotiation, to which it was not intended Great Britain should be a party. Germany disavowed this intention, stating that she desired only a rearrangement of French and German colonies.

The secretary's lucid exposition of the negotiations and the firmness he was able to show he displayed during the trying weeks won for him the support of the house with the exception of a few radicals or peace-at-any-price members who believe that the firmness which prevented the war will estrange Great Britain and Germany. His announcement that if a British minister could not say what Lloyd-George said in his much-discussed speech, Great Britain would cease to be a great power, brought forth a great cheer, as did also his pronouncements that the cabinet would at all times protect British interests.

In one respect Sir Edward's statement flatly contradicted that of the German foreign minister. The latter said that Great Britain had kept Germany waiting for an answer to the dispatch of the Panther to Agadir, while the British foreign secretary insisted that the delay in re-

STATE COMMISSION ASSISTS IN FIXING LIGHT SCHEDULE

Messrs. Sullivan and Goggin, composing the Public Service Commission of Ohio, went into session in the council chamber in the city building Tuesday morning, for the purpose of hearing any complaints on the part of Newark citizens regarding the new schedule of charges for electric current as offered by the Licking Light and Power company.

The company was represented by Frederick M. Black while the interests of the people of Newark were looked after by City Solicitor Frank A. Bolton and Solicitor-elect Roderic Jones. Suggestions by the public service commissioners regarding certain changes in the wording of the schedule of prices were agreed to by the company's representatives.

The schedule was so changed that the sliding scale as offered by the lighting company will at no time permit the company to charge more than the rate fixed in the ordinance.

Those who attended the session were pleased with the attitude of the commissioners and the company's representatives. There was an indication that both sides wished to agree upon the questions at issue so the public will be fairly treated. Attorneys Bolton and Jones ably represented the people's interests at the hearing.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Hardening of the Arteries.
The activity of the brain is determined largely by its blood supply, and when the arteries that supply it are hardened by the deposit of mineral matter it must become sluggish. The skin of the laborer early becomes hard, dry and wrinkled because of the more rapid deposit of mineral matter. The sedentary worker hardens soon, comparatively, because his circulation is sluggish. Moderate exercise to keep the circulation in normal flow, olive or peanut oil to lubricate and soften the tissues, are the natural means of avoiding premature ossification.

OLD LICKING'S PROUD RECORD

The following extract which the Ohio State Journal gives from its own file of November 1, 1845, is a matter of interest to Licking county readers:

"NEW COUNTIES.
"From present appearances, the next Legislature will have the usual quantity of petitions for new counties; and the committee to which they will be referred will have their hands full. We observe in the last Newark Gazette no less than four notices that application will be made for new counties. One to be taken from the counties of Coshocton, Washington, Licking, Knox and Holmes, to be called Van Buren—one from Muskingum, Licking and Coshocton, to be called Howard—one from Franklin, Knox, Fairfield, Delaware and Licking, to be called Centre—one from Delaware, Franklin, Knox and Licking, to be called Centre. There seems to be a determination among hands to have a slice out of Licking—good "old Democratic Licking!"

From the above it will be seen that "Good old Democratic Licking" was the established reputation our county enjoyed in the columns of the leading Whig paper of the state 66 years ago.
And Old Licking still enjoys the proud record.

Mr. Rockefeller must be a very religious man. Otherwise he would never hire a minister of the gospel to put a railroad deal across.

A CONTRAST

There is a decided difference between Virginia and Massachusetts in the matter of promptly prosecuting and punishing murderers. The two contemporary cases are evidence. Beattie, the Virginia wife murderer, committed his crime on a day in July of the present year. Within a few weeks he was tried, convicted and sentenced, and on November 24 was electrocuted.

In the Massachusetts case, Spencer,
the murderer of Miss Blackstone, committed his crime in the month of March, 1910. He has just been convicted of murder, but his case will not be finally disposed of in the higher court until next April.

In these two cases the promptness of Virginia justice is greatly in contrast with that of puritanical Massachusetts.

The greatest ocean steamer is yet to be built and promises to be in the near future. It is coming in the White Star Gigantic. Its length is to be 1,000 feet, with twelve decks, and will have golf links, swimming tank and other devices by which the passenger can while away a seven-day voyage.

There has been nothing in the dispatches about the Chinese tarring any school teachers.

Princeton has not yet found a president. But education there appears to be progressing satisfactorily in the essential department of football.

"Economy of Production!"

Tainted news articles are being sent out from Washington to the effect that if the steel trust is forced to dissolve it will be too bad for the poor consumers, for they will henceforth be deprived of the "economy of production" resulting from the one man management of the steel business of the country. The literature goes on to say that a great saving in the cost of manufacture has been effected by the scientific systemization of steel manufacture by the trust.

The fact is, however, that the present prices of tin plate, wire and wire products, are from 10 to 50 per cent higher than the prices that prevailed before the formation of the tin plate and wire trusts in 1898. As a result of the "economy of production" which accompanied the birth of the bar wire trust, the price of that article jumped from $1.80 per hundred pounds, in 1898, to $1.15 in 1899. The present price is $2.05, and the quality much inferior to that turned out before the trust was formed.

The steel rail pool has maintained the price of steel rails rigidly at $28 a ton every day since the steel corporation was formed. Previously, steel rails were selling well below $20 a ton.

The rule has been that prices have advanced rapidly when trusts were formed. If, as the steel trust literature alleges, there were great "economies" of production, the same has gone to pay dividends of highly watered stock, to offset heavy contributions to Republican campaign funds and to make up the $29,000,000 of clear profit that J. P. Morgan drew down for the part he played in organizing the illegal steel trust.

Bowels are Basis of Child Health

The careful mother, who watches closely the physical peculiarities of her children, will soon discover that the most important thing in connection with a child's constant good health is to keep the bowels regularly open. Sluggish bowels will be followed by loss of appetite, restlessness during sleep, irritability and a dozen and one similar evidences of physical disorder.

At the first sign of such disorder give the child a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night on returning and repeat the dose the following night if necessary—more than that will scarcely be needed. You will find that the child will recover its accustomed good spirits at once and will eat and sleep normally.
This remedy is a vast improvement over salts, cathartics, laxative waters and similar things, which are altogether too powerful for a child. The homes of Mrs. Geo. L. Ormsby, Xenia, Ohio, and Mrs. Jas. McLain, Hammondsville, Ohio, are always supplied with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and with them, as with thousands of others, there is no substitute for this grand laxative.

It is really more than a laxative, for it contains superior tonic properties which help to tone and strengthen the stomach, liver and bowels so that after a brief use of it all laxatives can be dispensed with and nature will do its own work.
Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr.
W. B. Caldwell, 465 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

THE POOR COOKS.

Alas, the homes that joy forsake because the housewives couldn't cook! Alas, the agonies and aches imparted by punk chops and steaks!
Alas, the strained and tearful eyes distressed by seeing fearsome pies!
Our kitchens, in these modern times,
are scenes of most atrocious crimes;
there meat is ruined by the ton by being charred or underdone, and bread is baked like paving bricks—we slice it up with saws and picks—and things are fried that should be steamed, and deadly kinds of dope are brewed. How often do you see a maid whose cooking leaves you unafraid? I know a million damsels; they prance around me everywhere, and some can paint, and some can sing, and some can waltz like everything, accomplishments they have to burn, but when for tempting grub I yearn, I couldn't call a girl by name who's equal to the cooking game. The day's at hand when suffering man must eat his dinner from a can. The girls embark in politics, and haven't time for skillful tricks with frying pans and kindred tools and that's why indigestion rules.

GREATER NEWARK, OHIO BOOKLET

The cover design for the "Greater Newark" books which are still selling rapidly at the news-stands and book stores, was drawn by City Engineer Charles H. Wells. Besides the lettering shown upon the drawing, the cover page reads: "Free Factory Sites, Cheap Power and Fuel—An Ideal Manufacturing and Residence Section—Centrally Located—Splendid Shipping Facilities." Between 8,000 and 9,000 of the Greater Newark Books have already been sold.

The new workmen's compensation law is a tub that stands on its own bottom. The State Insurance Fund is not raised by taxation but is raised by payments from employers and employees. It is based upon the principle that industries should take care of the personal loss and distress arising from injuries in workshops and factories. The new law sees to it that the state administrators this fund to the end that an even and just distribution be made. This is one of the creditable acts of the present legislature and an answer to a clear call of civilization itself.

Theodore Roosevelt can be unconsciously direct when he chooses to be, his recent interview regarding whether he will or will not be a candidate dodger that no politician of the present generation has excelled.

JURY MAY GET THE DAVIS CASE THIS EVENING

Witnesses for Defense on Stand this Afternoon—News of the Licking County Courts.

The trial of the state of Ohio vs.
Perry Davis was resumed to the court and the jury on the convening of court on Tuesday morning. Counsel for the defendant stated that they did not deny the main facts connected with the lynching of Carl Etherington, with which Davis is charged, but they stated that they denied that the defendant had any connection with it. This materially shortened the testimony and the state proceeded to introduce their testimony tending to show defendant's connection with the lynching.

At the conclusion of the evidence on behalf of the state the defendant moved the court to arrest the testimony from the jury and direct a verdict for the defendant. After argument by counsel of the motion, the court overruled the motion. The defendant then proceeded to call and examine his witnesses.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link; the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr.
Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach.
Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SOCIETY

On Friday evening, November 24, Mrs. R. M. Martin, of South Fourth Street, delightfully entertained about 40 of the Bliss College students in honor of her daughter, Beatrice, who is attending the above mentioned school of this city.

About seven o'clock the jolly crowd met on the west side of the square and went in a body to the house where Mrs. Martin assisted by Mrs. Grace Herrick had things in readiness to receive the guests.

The evening was spent in social games and dancing. The music was furnished by Miss Martin at the piano and Mr. John Criticos, violinist. Miss Florence Hamlin rendered several beautiful selections.

At about 10:30 Mr. Walter Rauck, who was master of ceremonies, requested everyone to be seated and a dainty buffet supper was served, after which the games were continued until a late hour when several short speeches were made in appreciation of the kindness of the hostess.

Among those present were Misses Lucille Conlin, Thora Slaughter, Lenora Sachs, Olive Wilson, Maude Orr, Pearl Norris, Le la Barcus, Alma Hamlin, Mable Newberry, Jessie R.

min, Ida Phillips, Lena Anderson, Florence Curtis, Ruth Johnson, Florence Hamlin, Beatrice Martin, Mrs. R. M. Martin, Mrs. Grace Herrick, Messrs. John Newberry, Leonard Richardson, Russell Martin, Forrest Wright, Fred Garner, Ed Ewalt, Mary Haynes, John Criticos, George Coyle, Norris Taylor, Cary Wolfe, Walter Rauck, Lester Hart, Harold Aumiller, Ed Schaller, John Palmer, Jack Evans, Willard Palmer, George Cousno and Professor W. C. Worst.

The Travelers club assembled in the parlors of the Baptist church of Granville on Monday afternoon and the following program was given:

The White Plague—Paper written by Mrs. E. P. Cook and read by Dr. Cook.

The Old Spanish Missions—Mrs. Field.

The Salton Sea—Miss Howe.

The club had no guests.

Miss Maude Parr entertained the Secret Sewing Circle at her home south of the city, Thursday afternoon. The time was spent in needlework and contests.

Dainty refreshments were served the following members and guests: Messdames Leon Wolfe, Fred Orr, Charles Tavenner, Bert Watson, Alvah Hazlett, Arthur Sherman, J. Hirst and S. J. Parr, Misses Mae Stevens, Florence Hazlett, Anna Osborn, Magale Taylor, Lillian Hirst, Mabel Wolfe, Clara Taylor, Esther Hartshorn, Helen Watson, Edna Wolfe and Master Frederick Watson.

The meeting of the Monday Talks was held on the club day at the trustees room in the Memorial building. The following program was given:

New Beginnings in the Middle Ages—Mrs. L. P. Franklin.

Modern Religious Drama—Mrs. W. N. Fulton.

Old Missions—Mrs. Prout.

Literature: The Servant in the House—Kennedy; The Passing of the Third Floor Back—Jerome.

Miss Amy Pease of Buckingham street, was most agreeably surprised Saturday evening by relatives and friends, it being her birthday anniversary. The house was decorated in red, pink and white carnations. A general good time was indulged in, being coupled with several musical selections rendered by Miss Bernice Pease.

At 10 o'clock a luncheon was served to the following relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. William Pease, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pease, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peas and daughter Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Trickey, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Riley, Mr. and Mrs. S. Brown, and Miss Margaret Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. I. Martindale and Miss Amy Pease.

A new club was organized at the home of Elizabeth McWilliams last Thursday. It was decided that they would call it the L. G. C. club, sewing being the chief amusement. Those present were Clara Zach, Beatrice Jones, Elizabeth Adam, Elizabeth Zach, and Elizabeth McWilliams.

The Alfretha club will dance for the first time this season at Assembly Hall on Tuesday evening. This dance prefaces a number that will be given by the club during the winter months.

A pleasant gathering was one that took place at the home of T. H. Steinmetz, when the remaining members of the Christian Steinmetz family came to his home, consisting of himself and wife and son George. Philip Steinmetz of Centerburg, O., John D. Steinmetz of Brandon, O., and his wife, then came T. L. Steinmetz of Utica, O., also Mrs. Mary E. Manville of Newark, O. The last remaining sister with her four brothers are left while the parents and the rest of the family have gone to that land where we are fast hastening. There were two children of Geo. Steinmetz from Wayne county, Wis., William Steinmetz, also Mrs. Etta Ham formerly Etta Steinmetz. There were three generations in all, three grandchildren and one great grandson, who is Master Richard Gordon Fields.

While the refreshments were being prepared the family joined in singing some of the old time hymns, such as "On Jordan's Stormy Banks I Stand," and with many others equally as befitting as that. The accompaniments were rendered on the organ by George Steinmetz and the vocal music was sung with spirit and the understanding. The entire company was composed of the immediate members of the Steinmetz family, save Mrs. R. H. Steinmetz's mother, Mrs. Allen Boyd, somewhere in her eightieth year, and is quite well.

The members of the Unity Reading Circle, with their husbands and invited guests, gave the annual banquet at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard Barrick in Woods avenue, on Friday evening at eight o'clock.

After very choice selections of music by Miss Mary Swingle, the doors were thrown open disclosing the banquet table which presented a beautiful sight. The club colors, red and white, were used in decorations. A beautifully arranged centerpiece was of fruit and vegetables banked with green and holding red and white candles. Graceful bouquets of red and white carnations and candles in tall crystal sticks further added to the beauty of the scheme. The guests found at each place dainty cards with ribbons, containing conundrums.

When all were seated, the club president, Mrs. Lloyd G. Millisor, welcomed the guests in behalf of the club. Then followed toasts given by Dr. Howard Barrick. Fruit was now served and a comic reading was ably rendered by Mr. H. W. Rhoades.

The four course turkey dinner was served by four young girls. The courses were interspersed by guessing of the conundrums and the club prophecy given by Mrs. E. E. Moore.

While the guests were still seated at the tables, Mrs. A. E. Best delighted the company with a vocal selection.

Those who enjoyed the evening together were: Messrs. and Mesdames

GOOD THINGS TO TRY.

The culinary architect is keenly alive to anything new in combination or serving and a few recipes of new dishes are always hailed with delight. Here are a few to tickle the palate:

Bohemian Pear Dainty.—Dissolve two heaping tablespoonsful of gelatin in a cup of boiling water, add six ripe pears that have been peeled and rubbed through a sieve, four tablespoonsful of sugar, a teaspoonful of vanilla and two cups of whipped cream. Mold in a wet mold and turn out when set. Decorate with sweetened whipped cream and peeled pears.

Chocolate Sponge.—Take two and a half squares of chocolate, melted, add two tablespoonsful of powdered gelatin, and two cups of milk, three tablespoonsful of sugar. Stir over the fire until melted and smooth, then strain into a basin. Add one cup whipped cream and the white of egg beaten stiff. Pour into a mold and let stand to set.

Lamb Chops With Cucumber.—Cook the chops until brown on both sides. Peel a good-sized cucumber and cut into small dice; simmer in boiling water until almost done, drain and season with butter and cook until quite tender. Add salt, chopped parsley and pepper. Arrange the chops around the edge of the platter and heap the cucumbers in the center.

Orange Pudding.—Scald a pint of milk in a double boiler, add a tablespoonful of cornstarch which has been mixed with a little cold milk, then add the yolks of two eggs and a cupful of sugar. Cook until smooth then remove from the heat. Peel and slice thin two oranges, sprinkle with sugar, then pour over them the chilled custard. A meringue may be added and browned in the oven. Chill and serve cold.

MAYOR A'KLE SUSPENDED THE JAIL SENTENCE

Edward Dodson, charged with malicious destruction of property was fined $25 and costs in Mayor A'Kle's court Tuesday morning and sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The jail sentence was suspended pending the good behavior of the boy, particularly towards his father, who was the prosecuting witness in the case.

The older Dodson testified that Edward came to his home Sunday night and demanded admittance. When it was refused he threw a chair through the window.

The father told the mayor that yesterday he was engaged in erecting a monument over the grave of a son and today he was a witness in court against another son. He declared that his trials were a little more than he was able to bear.

Thanksgiving Out of Doors.

THE outdoors Thanksgiving which we may all enjoy is not one of some special day, but one of many days and weeks. We do not need to wait for a proclamation setting forth the time when we shall celebrate it, but we may go forth any day and enjoy it. For this is truly a season outdoors to give thanks for. A haze on the far horizon, an infinitely tender sky is above, a dreaminess is in the air, and but to walk forth is to give thanks. As Oliver Wendell Holmes truly says, "This is the time to walk in the woods or on the seashore,—a sweet season that should be given to lonely walks, to stumbling about in old churchyards, plucking on the way the aromatic, silvery herb, 'Everlasting,' and smiling on the dry flower until it etherizes the sense into aimless reveries outside of space and time. There is little need to paint the still, warm, misty dreamy Indian summer in words; there are many states that have no articulate vocabulary, and are only to be reproduced in music—and the mood this season produces is of this nature. By and by, some native Haydn will perhaps turn the Indian summer into the loveliest endants of the new Creation."

So, no matter upon what date Thanksgiving Day itself may fall, we may all have our little outdoor Thanksgiving, when we wander forth and enjoy the feast of softness and dreaminess and faint vanishing colors nature has spread for us. And it is a question worth considering if a Thanksgiving of this kind is not worth more than one of a heavy dinner and small chat afterward. To etherize our senses with that thought "Everlasting," until time and space are no more, is an experience worth having. We lose consciousness of this world, and we roam in the realms of the infinite and dwell upon the things of the spirit. We are swept up into heaven as it were, and the things we see and know are truly cause for joyous thanksgiving. We can come back to earth after awhile, but the joys we have tasted are an elixir in the blood, far more inspiring and lasting than the rarest wine that may be poured for us at a Thanksgiving feast.

No no matter in what way we may enjoy the day appointed after the mundane fashion, let us get out and give our spirit an outdoor thanksgiving, where it may roam as it will, lured by the blue haze of some distant mountain, or roused to exuberant life by the flaming scarlet of some glorious tree. Let the wind as it races by tell of far lands and jubilant endeavor, and the high-arching dome of heaven with its scurrying clouds lead the mind to infinite spaces. And thus will an outdoor Thanksgiving set singing within us a psalm of joy. For as some poet says,

"There is something to the autumn that is native to our blood—
Touch of manner, hint of mood.
And our heart is like a rhyme
With the yellow and the purple and the crimson keeping time.

"The scarlet of the maples can shake us like a cry
Of bugles going by.
And the lonely spirit thrills
To see the frosty asters like smoke upon the hills."

And as it is meet to give thanks for the bountiful harvests nature has given in field and forest, so also it is meet to give thanks for the feast of beauty she has spread so lavishly for the eye and the spirit to partake of. And we will enjoy the formal Thanksgiving celebration all the more for a little private outdoors Thanksgiving of our own, wherein our spirit feasts at will upon the delicate ethereal loveliness of late November days.

TOO BAD

BY MISS HILDA WADDELL.

Now Jack was an aeronaut,
Miss Jane—a flyaway.
Red asked her to get married
And fly with him some day.

But when Jane's father heard it,
He flew into a rage
And sent Jack flying through the door
This is a flying age.

Bald? Going to neglect your hair until it leaves you? Going to neglect your dandruff until you are bald? Certainly not. Then consult your doctor. Ask him about Ayer's Hair Vigor. It never stains or changes the color of the hair.

DIRTY DOPE
If a cook paints, does baking powder? Or if a man built a church steeple gratis, would he also give the belfry?

Daddy's Bedtime Story

When Elf Topsy Turvy Comes to Visit

Then He Began to Make Trouble

DADDY had been cross. When the child went to bed she followed them as far as the hall, picking up here the ball that Jack dropped and there the bits from the paper doll dresses Evelyn had been making.

Daddy, who had been sitting in the library with a book, had seen all this. When he came upstairs he looked grave.

"Oh, daddy, I forgot to ask you for a dime to buy some pencils. I've lost all mine, and we need them at school," said Evelyn.

"Yes, and my arithmetic's lost. Teacher says I'll have to buy a new one," cried Jack.

"Have any of you ever heard about the little elf Topsy Turvy?" began daddy. "Topsy Turvy doesn't have any particular place to live. He just bounds around wherever he can and a boy or girl that will let him come in and stay."

"Once he went prying around the house where little Dottie Dumppling lived. One day he managed to sneak in. Then he began to make trouble. Dottie's books were never in place, and her dolls were always getting on the sofas or tables when they should have been safe in their little beds. Dottie could no longer keep a pair of gloves or all the buttons on her frock. Then, too, in school Dottie Dumppling had trouble about her pencils. The teacher scolded her for losing them."

"Dottie Dumppling's brother—she had a brother. Let me see—what was his name? Well, we'll call him Dave—Dave Dumppling. Until Topsy Turvy came to live at their house Dave was quite a very fair sort of boy, but Topsy Turvy fixed things up so that Dave lost or mislaid every blessed thing he borrowed, so that folks just hated to let him have anything of theirs. One night when he went to bed he mislaid his shoes. His cap was seldom to be found. Topsy Turvy was, of course, the cause of all this trouble, and the elf had a lovely time."

"But at last the fairy queen heard about it, and she said she just hated to think of those two nice children being spoiled by little elf Topsy Turvy and would like fairy Ship Shape run over to Dottie and Dave's house and see if they would not rather have a nice, well behaved fairy like her to live with them instead of an ugly, naughty little elf like Topsy Turvy."

Two very flushed faces were raised to daddy's, and two small voices said: "You can tell Fairy Ship Shape to come right in. We'll try to make it nice for her."

"Thank you," said daddy, smiling. "I'll speak to her."

Quail are Scarce.

Mr. J. L. Worth, ticket agent for the Pan Handle railway at this point who has been off duty for the past week, hunting the festive quail in the eastern and southern parts of the county, will return to work Wednesday. Ordinarily Mr. Worth is one of the most successful of hunters, but he says that notwithstanding the reports that quail are plentiful, some one will have to show him, as he has tramped the whole country over and saw but a few of the birds.

Balky Horse.

A balky horse nearly spoiled the hunting trip of Mr. William Kuster of Kuster and Company and Dr. J. T. Harbottle. The two men started bright and early Tuesday morning for the country and were but a short way out of the city when one of the horses they were driving absolutely refused to be induced to move. After persuasion and force had been used, one of the hunters rode the other horse back to town and got a new horse. The two are now causing consternation among the Bob Whites.

PROF. OSLER RIGHT YOUTH ALWAYS SUCCEEDS AGE

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur combines these old time remedies with other agents which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

Don't look old before your time. Get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur today, and see what an improvement it will make in the appearance of your hair.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

COFFEE HEART.

As Dangerous as the Tobacco or Whiskey Heart.

"Coffee heart" is common to many coffee users and is liable to send the owner to his or her long home if the drug is persisted in. You can run 30 or 40 yards and find out if your heart is troubled. A lady who was once a victim of the "coffee heart" writes from Oregon:

"I have been a habitual user of coffee all my life and have suffered very much in recent years from ailments which I became satisfied were directly due to the poison in the beverage, such as torpid liver and indigestion, which in turn made my complexion blotchy and muddy."

"Then my heart became affected. It would beat most rapidly just after I drank my coffee, and go below normal as the coffee effect wore off. Sometimes my pulse would go as high as 137 beats to the minute. My family were greatly alarmed at my condition and at last, another persuaded me to begin the use of Postum."

"I gave up coffee entirely and absolutely and made Postum my sole table beverage. This was six months ago, and all my ills, the indigestion, inactive liver, and rickety heart action, have passed away, and my complexion has become clear and natural. The improvement set in very soon after I made the change, just as soon as the coffee poison had time to work out of my system."

"My husband has also been greatly benefited by the use of Postum, and we find that a simple breakfast with Postum, is as satisfying and more strengthening than the old heavier meal we used to have with coffee."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason," and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in package.

AMUSEMENTS

LAST NIGHT'S PLAY.

The week's engagement of the Cato Keith Stock company opened on Monday evening at the Auditorium theatre with "His Last Dollar" to a large audience and it more than pleased. Cato Keith is the same genial, smiling and good natured comedian as of yore and his appearance here each year serves to make the former the good impression and popularity he enjoys with Newark theatre goers.

There has been a number of changes

THE MOUNTAIN MINSTRELS.

The minstrel show to be produced by the Stove Mounters' Union in the High School Auditorium Tuesday evening, Dec. 5, will be one of the best local talent productions ever put on in Newark.

There are fourteen soloists, a chorus of twenty, and numerous specialties by men who are fully capable of producing the goods in proper style.

The public will remember the minstrels produced by the Sons of Vete-

KATE STEIN

With Keith Stock Company at Auditorium This Week.

made in the cast of the company and all of them are decidedly for the better. And none of these is more pronouncedly for the better than the raising of Miss Luella Pullen to the role of leading woman. Miss Pullen will be remembered as the hard working and clever little girl who played the second parts last season with the company. As Mr Keith's leading woman she is remarkably clever and with her natural beauty she made much of her part, that of a southern girl, on Monday evening.

Of Mr Keith's work no comment need be made for he never fails to please. Bessie Warren and Joseph Berry are still playing the heavy roles. Mr Lawrence did a good bit of character work as a Hebrew impersonator.

The company has been enlarged and the repertoire includes a number of new plays. Tonight will be one of the feature bills of the week "The Vinegar Buyer." This was Ema Kendall's last starring vehicle and the play offers vast opportunities to Mr. Keith.

ans last winter and as this production will be under the same direction, it goes without saying that the public will get more than the worth of their money.

The diamond ring will be awarded the night of the minstrels to the one holding the lucky number.

The program of this entertainment will be published this week.

What the Press Agent Says

HARTMAN THEATRE.
Mr. Walker Whiteside will open an engagement of three nights and a matinee at the Hartman theatre, Columbus, beginning next Monday evening, December 4, appearing in "The Magic Melody," which he has been presenting with undiminished success. "The Magic Melody" is attractive in story and character.

Its author, Gordon Keen, has contrasted the passion for riches, and devotion to art, the exponent of the former being a multi-millionaire of merciless system, and that of the latter, being a young musician who thinks more of his violin than he does of either money or fame. As the result of a contest into which these two contestants are drawn, they are ultimately brought together through the revelation that they are father and son. The play is simple in construction and movement, quaint and human in sentiment and characters, and presents Mr. Whiteside in one of the most natural, finished, and artistic performances he has yet essayed.

"Madame Sherry" is coming to the new Hartman theatre for an engagement of three nights and a matinee, beginning Thursday evening, December 7. Everyone familiar with the big success of this attraction will rejoice in the announcement. The organization, besides a specially augmented orchestra, is remarkable for names that spell big favor among musical theatre patrons in all big cities.

THE ORPHEUM.

The new bill which opened at the cozy Arcade theatre yesterday was greeted by three well filled houses and every patron agreed that Adonis and His Dog presents one of the prettiest and most entertaining acts ever seen on a vaudeville stage. Adonis carries all his own stage settings which are truly beautiful. The solid background is of green silk plush draperies and the stars, on the landing of which he does all his performing, are covered with deep red velvet. Dressed in white silk he presents some of the most difficult gymnastic and hand balancing feats ever seen at the Orpheum. Several excellent acrobatic experts will be remembered who have greatly pleased, but none have ever equaled Adonis. Every one applauds heartily when Lottie, the little white dog comes walking in on its hind feet, up the stair and works to the finish of the act with its master. Dogs can be taught wonderful tricks, but it seems that Lottie would almost have to have human intelligence to perform her part. Glittering around her neck is a beautiful diamond necklace which is a present from her master, as an appreciation of her wonderful faithfulness and perseverance. Dick and Alice McAvoy have a treat in late comedy singing and talking. They offer one of the largest lines of new comedy and side spitting jokes that has been presented by any one team for a long time. There is not a dull moment during their act, but every second some new laugh. Florence Rayfield as a comedienne has some very pretty songs and dances. She has a dainty way about her which every one likes and with her rich voice is quite a favorite. Von Lear and Rome present a comedy magical act, which is full of good lively fun and plenty of surprises. They are two very clever fellows. The Orpheumscope has a new film.

ASK YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Hundreds of Newark Citizens Can Tell You All About It.

Home endorsement the public expression of Newark people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every reader of the Newark Daily Advocate. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in far-away places. Read the following:

Mrs. Charles Dudgeon, 433 W. Church street, Newark, Ohio, says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills in our family with such good results that I can recommend them although I have never used any myself. One of us suffered a great deal from kidney weakness and backache. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from A. F. Crayton & Co.'s drug store brought great relief."

Plenty of Pumpkins For Thanksgiving

While there may be a scarcity of turkeys this year for Thanksgiving, people may rest assured that another important feature of the Thanksgiving dinner will not be lacking. This is pumpkin pie. Lovers of the pumpkin pie will not find any difficulty in securing all the pumpkins they will need. All the local dealers have large supplies on hand and more are coming in constantly. They are as low as five cents each. The usual prices range from ten to fifteen cents and for this amount good sized pumpkins can be secured.

Young Mothers

No young woman, in the joy of coming motherhood, should neglect to prepare her system for the physical ordeal she is to undergo. The health of both she and her coming child depends largely upon the care she bestows upon herself during the waiting months. Mother's Friend prepares the expectant mother's system for the coming event, and its use makes her comfortable during all the term. It works with and for nature, and by gradually expanding all tissues, muscles and tendons, involved, and keeping the breasts in good condition, brings the woman to the crisis in splendid physical condition. The baby too is more apt to be perfect and strong where the mother has thus prepared herself for nature's supreme function. No better advice could be given a young expectant mother than that she use Mother's Friend; it is a medicine that has proven its value in thousands of cases. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

CONG. JAS. COX LUNCHEONED WITH OHIO GOVERNOR

Columbus, O., Nov. 28.—Congressman James M. Cox was here yesterday on personal business, but found time to take luncheon with Governor Harmon and Adjutant-General Weybrecht and to call on State Oil Inspector Finley.

His conference with Inspector Finley was said to have to do with his candidacy for governor and a desire of the congressman to have Finley's expert aid in the pre-convention fight. But to friends who asked him about it he said, "I am not a candidate," a statement which these friends interpreted to mean "not yet."

He did not discuss the governorship with Governor Harmon but he talked with him concerning the coming session of Congress. The Dayton congressman believes the Democrats will pass over again their tariff bills of the extra session, which President Taft vetoed, and he is not sure but the president will sign them the second time they are presented to him.

DENSE FOG CAUSE OF THE COLLISION

East Liverpool, Nov. 28.—As a result of a head-on collision between a tri-state interurban car and a United States mail wagon near industry, four persons were seriously injured and the wagon demolished, but the horses escaped. A dense fog was the cause.

The injured:

Albert A. Allison, aged 33, rural mail carrier.

Rev. O. P. Witherow of the Free Methodist church.

Mrs. Witherow.

Their son, aged four months.

The injured persons were taken to a local hospital.

M. R. SCOTT WRITES NEW BOOK "CRIMES AND CRIMINALS"

"Crimes and Criminals" is the title of Milton R. Scott's latest book. The well known author of "Prison Reform" deals with all phases of the subject in his new volume. One of the most interesting chapters is entitled "The Ideal City," wherein the writer tells of the character a city should possess. Another chapter which possesses local interest is headed "Just Town Boys," and reads as follows:

In Ray Stannard Baker's article on the Newark lynching, published last April in the American Magazine occurs the following significant paragraph:

"I went to the county jail, where all the men who had been caught were locked up. It was one of the most tragic sights I ever saw in my life. I had expected to find a group of hard-looking rowdies, but instead of that, most of the prisoners were scarcely more than boys—'just town boys,' the sheriff said. And several of them were jail sick from months of imprisonment."

"Just boys," but alas, how fearful was the crime with which they were charged, and how necessary it was for the demands of justice and the fair fame of our city that the perpetrators of this crime should have to answer for it before the high court of justice.

"Just boys!" And were they not the victims of the excitement and riot and hot air and bad whiskey with which the town was charged that night, not dwelling on the civil administration which preceded that night, and, alas, prevailed during that night?

"Just boys!" And were they not stimulated to their fatal deed by hundreds of men and a number of women who were wrought into a frenzy by the shooting of Howard and stopped not to learn, and perhaps cared not to learn whether it was done in self defense or not?

"Just boys!" And we shall never know how many persons besides themselves were either directly or indirectly responsible for the tragedy of that night.

"Just boys!" And ought we not to feel for them and form our judgment concerning them in a clear view of all these facts, and as we would feel and judge if they were of our own blood?

"Just Boys!" And some of them have fathers and mothers who have suffered days and nights of the most bitter agony on account of the fearful snare—rather, cyclone—in which their flesh and blood was caught.

"Just Boys!" And on account of their transgressions they should be dealt with most faithfully, but at the same time in such a way as to prepare them for free citizenship after they have furnished a sufficient expiation of their offenses.

"Just Boys!" Therefore I hold that some of them have been very properly committed to the state reformatory and others placed under the suspended sentence which the statute provides.

"Just Boys," most of them. Therefore whatever disposition may be made of the rest of their case, after their long imprisonment in the county jail, should be both reasonable and humane—and for their good.

For thus will the law of the state be vindicated; and the lynching of Carl Etherington will be condemned—I might almost say avenged—in such a manner that it will prove the end of all lynching in the state of Ohio, and let us hope the beginning of the end of all lynching throughout the United States!

POINTS OF A GOOD STABLE

HORSES walked on starting out in the morning, and after the noon feed. Men bring the horses in at noon, and at night, cool and breathing easily. Legs well rubbed if wet or muddy, or if the horses are tired. Head, ears and neck well rubbed, if wet from rain or sweat. Horses sponged under collar and saddle. Horses well brushed if dry. Feet washed and examined for nails. Eyes, nose and dock sponged in summer. In very hot weather, and then only, horses wiped all over with a wet sponge on coming in. (This does not mean washing the horse, much less turning the hose on him.) Horses given a little water, but not much, on coming in warm. No grain fed for at least an hour. Horses watered when cool, then hayed, watered again, and grained. (In any case watered at night, after eating their hay. This is especially necessary in summer.) Plenty of bedding, and horses bedded down all day Sunday.

ABOUT THE PINES

ABOUT 43 per cent of the total lumber output of the United States in 1908 was pine, showing how important to the lumber industry of the country was the thirty-seven species of pine grown in the United States area. No one species grows in all the states, yet, with perhaps one exception, no state is without one or more. Some occupy large regions in considerable abundance, while others are so scarce that few persons ever see and recognize them. Yet no species of pine is so scarce that it is not made in some way to serve man's need. Four important timber trees of the southeastern United States are usually grouped as one in the lumber markets and are sold under the common name of yellow pine. They are the long-leaf pine, short-leaf pine, loblolly pine, and Cuban pine. While in appearance the woods of these four trees are so nearly alike that it is sometimes difficult to distinguish one from the other, still, in some particulars there is considerable difference. Although the long-leaf pine, white pine, western yellow pine, western white pine and the loblolly produce most of the pine lumber manufactured in the United States, the United States Department of Agriculture in forest service bulletin No. 89 considers each species separately, giving in detail its physical properties, the supply, its early use, manufacture and products; and in the case of the more important species, specifies the more important uses to which it is put. The places which some species occupy are very humble, and they can never rise much in the scale of usefulness, yet each one is entitled to its own individuality.

THE "WHY" OF A BAD STABLE

HORSES hurried on starting in the morning and after the noon feed. Horses brought in hot and breathing hard. Harness stripped off roughly and horses rushed into stalls without rubbing, cleaning or sponging. Horses' legs washed. Horses allowed to drink their fill, no matter how hot; or not watered at all. Grain fed before the horses are rested. Feet not washed or examined until horse goes lame. Horses receive no water after eating their hay until next morning. Scenty bedding. No bedding on Sundays until night and horses watered only twice. Hay and grain of poor quality. Bran mash not given—too much trouble. Horses salted only when somebody happens to think of it. Hayloft dusty and dirty. Harness unclean; sweat allowed to accumulate on inside of collars. Narrow stalls. Steep runway with narrow turns. Horses led short for fear of their being cast, as is likely when they are put up dirty. Stable close—no ventilating shaft. Windows dirty. Linen pit ventilates into stable. Stalls boarded up high, where the horses' heads are. Men loafing in the stable in the evening and on Sunday. Horses not cleaned on Sunday.

SOME LAWN "DON'TS"

BY H. F. MAJOR, Instructor in Landscape Gardening, University of Illinois. DON'T scatter "shoe button" shrubs all over the lawn. Don't have a round flower bed. Don't have a Tea's weeping mulberry or any other weeping tree. Don't have iron seats, dogs, rabbits, deer or other imitations on the place. Never plant a box-elder. Don't plant a cottonwood where you alternate it with a good flower tree, with the intention of removing the cottonwood as soon as the other has fully developed. Don't plant salvia against a red brick wall. Don't have terraces near the sidewalk. Grade from the house to the walk with an even slope if possible. Don't plant street trees nearer than 30 feet apart. Don't get the "concrete craze." Don't wait to do something.

PREPARATION OF SHEEP PELTS

PELTs are, of course, a very important product in connection with the frozen-meat industry of New Zealand, which is concerned mostly with the export of sheep and lamb carcasses to England. The skins are taken off these animals as soon as they are killed and carefully washed. The wool is removed from practically all of the skins destined for the American trade and they are pickled for export in a solution of salt and sulphuric acid. The American duty on wool appears to make it disadvantageous to ship to the United States skins with the wool on. The wool is shipped by several different depilatory processes, either by sweating or by treatment with caustic soda and sulphur or sulphide sodium. Considerable of the wool so removed, chiefly that around the edges of the skins, is usually injured by the use of these chemicals, but this loss appears to be

CONCERNING HORSES

IN MOST cases all the hay the horses in the city receive is fed to them at night. It is, therefore, especially important that they should be watered during the night. All authorities agree, and experience teaches that city horses should be watered between 8 p. m. (9 p. m. would be better) and midnight, but it was found that less than half of the stables give their horses water after 7 p. m. "A horse comes in hungry," is the usual way a stableman puts it, "and he wants his supper so much that he will drink but little; and he ought not to drink deeply at that time, even if he wanted to. Then he eats a quantity of dry, heating food. He shouldn't have water right after eating; but if he doesn't get a good drink two or three hours later, he will go through the night thirsty, and the heating food will burn out his insides for lack of the water that is needed to give the nutritious qualities of the food a chance to do the good they should be doing." This night watering is not only common humanity in hot weather, but it is almost equally valuable in winter. For appetite comes with the bracing effect of cold weather, and horses eat more than they do in the summer. Consequently, if this extra food is to do its part in giving the horse power to resist the cold and the strain of winter work, water must be given at the time when it will do the most good, which is in most cases between 8 and 10 p. m., or even later. Nothing does so much toward giving back a return for the food given in the way of extra strength, working endurance and good condition. The effect of this night watering on the blood and general circulation is far reaching. The thirst that follows the digestion of a meal is the call of nature for the water that is needed to help the good of the food to get into the flesh and blood of the animal; and equally important is the part played by the water in sending the waste matter out of the body with the least possible wear and tear on the organs that perform this indispensable duty. A horse that remains thirsty all night cannot be expected to last as long as one that is watered at the proper time. The question of giving horses plenty of bedding in their stalls is one of the best of humane ideas, and in an inspection of several stables many of the stalls will have no bedding in them at all. It is found that when horses are encouraged by being given a soft place to rest at night they invariably lie down, provided the stall is large enough, thus resting their legs and feet at every possible opportunity. There is an old saying that a good city horse could use four sets of legs and feet. This means that a large part of his bodily strength and endurance is wasted because lameness and suffering wear out the unfortunate animal long before his time. "His shoulders is all gone savin' his legs," was the way one stableman described the condition of a horse which had worked his body muscles to pieces in trying to ease the strain on his battered legs and feet. As in the case of watering at night, the extra expense of giving a daytime bed to a horse is slight compared with the great benefit gained from the rest and chance for repairs given the legs. The good that comes out of this is reflected in the condition of the whole body, and all who own horses should see that this chance for needed rest is given their horses whenever they are in the stable. A horse will not lie down on stable planks unless worn and weary beyond the point where it is right to use any animal.

REQUESTS BY A HORSE

I WANT a drink at least three or four times each day, and if very warm, oftener. Don't leave me standing in the sun when a shady spot is convenient. Don't forget to blanket me in cold weather, and properly adjust the blanket as you do your overcoat. Don't put a frosty bit in my mouth, as my tongue is tender; rub the bit with your gloved hand. Don't lose your temper when I do not understand; be patient; I am willing if I only know what you want. Don't forget to treat me kindly; it pays and will be appreciated. Don't forget that I have a highly developed nervous system, which renders me peculiarly capable of suffering. Rough usage, even if it stops far short of brutality, keeps me in a state of constant fear or irritation. A glance at any one of us will tell whether our driver is good, bad or indifferent.

TIPS TO THE WISE FARMER

IT SELDOM pays to feed corn to pigs after they are ready to be marketed. Corn is not as perishable as fat hogs. It can be kept until the market advances. The man who sells a good farm and buys new land in a distant country confesses his inability to keep pace with the farming progress of the times. It is time we developed a class of young men capable of handling some of the problems that are driving older farmers from the best farms in the country. Grass and live stock should go hand in hand. There is no farm in our judgment which, if properly managed and kept at least one-half of the time in grasses and clovers, and gradually brought under a proper system of rotation, would not produce more—in fact, double—the crops which it now does, and yet constantly be growing better and better. Do you keep plenty of salt where your live stock can get at it all the time? Remember that this is absolutely essential to good health in a horse, cow, hog or sheep, as in a human being. What kind of water do your milk cows drink? Is it pure and clean? Remember that a big proportion of the water they drink is converted into milk, and therefore, ought to be as wholesome as that which you drink yourself.

ABOUT CARCASS BEEF

ABOUT one-half the supply of fresh beef sold in wholesale markets is carcass beef (sides and quarters). The two sides or halves of a carcass are termed a "cattle." In the right or "closed" side the inner surface of the kidney fat is attached to the loin, while in the left or "open" side it is free and a portion of the "skirt" (diaphragm) extends to the tenth rib, forming the "hanging tenderloin." The two sides are nearly equal in weight, but the open one is often 1 per cent the heavier. When sides are sold separately no discrimination in price is made between rights and lefts. Sides are quartered or "ribbed" between the twelfth and thirteenth ribs when taken from the chillroom either for shipment or local delivery, except export and "Boston" cattle, which are cut between the tenth and eleventh ribs. The quarters are called "fores" and "hinds." In shipping and export trade the four corresponding quarters are regarded as a carcass of beef—that is, they are sold as "straight cattle" rather than miscellaneous sides or quarters. In "car route" and local city trade carcass beef is to a considerable extent handled as separate "fores" and "hinds."

FARMERS AND PROBLEMS

BY W. J. SPELLMAN, United States Department of Agriculture. PRESENT conditions in America are merely an incident in the development of a new agricultural region. Now that the period of settlement and exploitation of the soil is passed, we are under the necessity of developing systems of farming suited to the individual soils in order to develop their highest efficiency and to make the most of their fertility. Where the last has been impaired, the systems must be adjusted to obtain the restoration of the highest possible productivity under economic limitations, while keeping in view the best uses of the soil when the fertility has again reached its maximum. In this readjustment we shall have to draw on the results of scientific investigation and on the experience of old nations. Many of our own farmers have successfully met these great problems, and their experience now becomes a source of valuable information to others. Fortunately our people are intelligent and aggressive, and there is every reason to believe that they are capable of meeting the emergency which now confronts us.

FALL PLANTING OF ORCHARDS

THERE are many good reasons for the fall planting of orchards. October is the best month for taking up this question. The weather is favorable now, but it is not likely to remain so for more than four or five weeks. Those who wish to have an orchard, or to enlarge the one they already have, should get busy. An orchard pays five times as much as grain per acre, and fall planting is becoming more popular each season, and experience shows its advantages the practice is becoming general.

SERVING OATS TO HORSES

IT IS believed by many that horses show more spirit when oats form part of the ration. Discussing this subject, Director W. A. Henry of the Wisconsin experiment station says: Horses nurtured on oats show mettles which cannot be reached by the use of any other feeding stuff. Then, too, there is no grain so safe for horse feeding, the animal rarely being seriously injured if by accident or otherwise the groom deals out an oversupply. This safety is due in no small measure to the presence of the oat hull, which causes a given weight of grain to possess considerable volume, because of which there is less liability of mistake in measuring out the ration; further, the digestive tract cannot hold a quantity of oats sufficient to produce serious disorders. Unless the horse is hard pressed for time or has poor teeth oats should be fed in the whole condition. Musty oats should be avoided. Horsemen generally agree that new oats should not be used, though Bousingsault, conducting extensive experiments with army horses, arrived at the conclusion that new oats do not possess the injurious qualities attributed to them.

POWDERED MILK

BY VICE-CONSUL GENERAL HENRY D. BAKER, On Special Service in New Zealand. NEW ZEALAND powdered milk is apparently gaining considerable reputation on account of its nutritious and keeping qualities, and it has become a formidable rival of condensed milk. Much attention has been paid to perfecting the process of preparing powdered milk, so as to eliminate the difficulty which usually occurs in preserved milk preparations, the rising of the fatty globules to the top when mixed with water. The powdered milk is said to be much more digestible and more suitable for infants' food than condensed milk, as it is thoroughly sterilized and contains no cane or beet sugar; also the casein, in the process of drying the milk, is divided into fine particles, as it is in human milk. Powdered milk as produced here contains about 36 per cent butter fat, 22.9 per cent proteins, 42.3 per cent milk sugar and 5.6 per cent mineral salts. It consists of a flaky powder of cream color. Very complete sterilization is obtained during the process of drying off the water, but little or no alteration occurs in the essential elements of the milk. The milk is dried within two hours of its being drawn from the cow, the cans into which the milk is received having previously been washed in lime water, then in cold water and finally sterilized with steam. Tuberculosis is guarded against by veterinary inspection of the cows and also by the sterilization of the cans, which insures the destruction of all bacilli.

One kind of powdered milk is made entirely from skim milk and is used largely in biscuit factories and in the manufacture of milk chocolates, for which purpose it is exported to England. Its use by biscuit manufacturers is said not only to improve the flavor of the biscuits, but add about fifteen biscuits to the quantity made from every pound of flour used. The powdered milk sold chiefly for infants' food and for use with tea or coffee is a dehydrated milk to which cream and lactose have been added. This milk is now recommended by local physicians as superior to any of the imported preserved milk preparations. It was used by the Shackleton expedition, and it is having been the main food of Professor David's party, which reached the magnetic pole. Two tons of this powdered milk have been ordered for the Mawson antarctic expedition, which will leave New Zealand for the south polar regions in November, and it is said that with pemmican it will be the sole dependence of the expedition in its final dash for the south pole.

URGES WINTER WHEAT

IN ORDER to renew interest in winter wheat growing in Wisconsin well-bred seed wheat is being distributed to farmers from 300 centers in the state by the department of agronomy of the University of Wisconsin. The general plans followed for growing pedigree grains of other kinds are being used for wheat. Each farmer is furnished with about one and one-half bushels of seed wheat which he plants on an acre and the produce of which he sells for seed the following season. About 200 bushels of seed wheat will be distributed this season. The most successful variety has been the Belle Gloe. The first seed wheat was sent out a year ago. Winter wheat now yields from thirty to thirty-six bushels per acre in Wisconsin. In the early days of the state plenty of wheat was grown, but with reduced yields and inroads of insect pests wheat cultivation gradually declined. Spring wheat can also be grown successfully in the state. In fact, about two-thirds of the wheat now grown in Wisconsin is spring wheat, and few summer varieties are good yielders and are to be recommended.

SUNBURNED HOGS

THE high temperature of summer will cause trouble in many herds of hogs. In white hogs there is likely to be a great deal of blistering, but even with hogs of other colors there will be more or less sunburning. There should be no delay, therefore, in putting the hogs through the dipping vat or in giving them a good wetting with a sprinkling can or spray pump. Any of the commercial coal-tar dips are ideally adapted to this purpose, and a few gallons used on a bunch of hogs during the summer season will contribute immensely to the economy of gain in those cases where the skin from any cause whatever gets out of condition. In real warm weather it will pay and pay well to round up the young pigs every ten days or two weeks and give them a thorough wetting.

HUNTING SEASON PROGRESS

OCTOBER marks the opening of most of the important hunting seasons in the United States. This month is the time for hunting deer, ruffed grouse and woodcock in the majority of states where these kinds of game abound, and while many states open the duck season in September, yet in several shooting is deferred until October, and in the case of Maryland and North Carolina until November. The principal deer hunting states in the north are Maine, New York, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. In Maine the season opens on the 1st of October, in Michigan on the 15th and in Minnesota and Wisconsin on Nov. 10th and 11th respectively. The Michigan season closes at the end of November and thus appears to be nearly four weeks longer than those of Wisconsin and Minnesota, which close at the same time, but as the life of a Michigan deer license is limited to twenty-five days there is no practical difference in the season in the three states. New Hampshire opens its deer season Oct. 1, while Vermont's does not open until Nov. 15 and New York's opened Sept. 16. In the south Louisiana, which probably furnishes the best deer hunting, opens its season on Oct. 1, and the same is true of Montana, one of the chief deer-hunting States of the west.

Of the states where the best ruffed grouse or partridge shooting may be had, a majority open the season in October. In New Hampshire, New York and Minnesota shooting begins on the 1st. In Massachusetts and Michigan on the 15th. As Maine, Vermont and Wisconsin opened their seasons in September, it is now lawful to hunt ruffed grouse anywhere along the northern border. Pennsylvania is the only important ruffed grouse state which delays the opening of its season until November. Woodcock shooting commences in October in seven states—New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. The seasons are already open in Maine, Vermont, Maryland, West Virginia, South Carolina and Indiana and will open later in Delaware, Virginia and Louisiana. This month, therefore, woodcock may be shot in practically all the region in which it is a prime object of sport.

Ducking begins this month on the shores of Long Island and in the waters and marshes of Virginia, Louisiana, California, Oregon, Utah, Colorado and Michigan. Quail shooting generally does not begin until November, except in the west, where California and Oregon permit hunting after the middle of October. Statistics of the number of deer killed are important for comparison with those of previous years, in order to show the comparative abundance of deer from year to year. Several states now provide for the gathering of this information.

WERE YOU AWARE THAT—

THE well-fed litter of pigs must have an opportunity to exercise, or else thumps are liable to claim the plumpiest. It is of no use to deceive ourselves by growing big hogs that the market discriminates against. In the final summing up the demands of the markets govern the type of hogs we must produce. Fashion and improper kinds of food have ruined the breeding qualities of many herds of swine. Quality and early maturity are far more desirable than age and coarseness. Feed the pig as a grass eating animal and give him his natural foods. Appetizing and attractive packages whet the public appetite for pork products. A little alfalfa makes the corn stick to the pigs' ribs. Sunlight is a natural tonic for the little pigs, and they revel in it. It is wise economy to plant shelter belts of evergreens, arbor vitae, Norway spruce and balsam fir, a portion of each with a sprinkling of other varieties to make a pleasing contrast.

When we consider ourselves as farmers for life and make farming a practical study, then we will take pride in our farms and live stock. The man with more money than brains, whose zeal and enthusiasm cause him to overdo his duty toward his animals, is one of the greatest enemies to improved stock. When animals become so refined in type and tending to the eye that outdoor exercise and sunshine are denied them disease and degeneration will soon follow. It is expensive to let a cow fall in her milk because of the lack of proper feed. In feeding a milk cow a corn ration reduce the ration at first indication of fattening. In keeping cows never be without clover. It is one of the foods essential to good dairymaking.

Better run a dairy without a dog than have one that is irritable to the cows. Many kicking cows are caused by the dogs nipping at their heels. In feeding cows never be without clover. FARM YARD HINTS

THE humane man is comfortable when his stock is comfortable, and when they are ill at ease he is in the same condition. As a general proposition, the pig of 200 to 250 pounds is what every grower should aim at, and it is the pig that pays both killer and feeder better than any other. It is difficult to fatten mongrels properly until the cool weather of fall, when they fatten very readily. They are never sold as green geese, being reserved for the Thanksgiving and the Christmas trade. As soon as the pigs begin to eat from the trough, give them some skim milk and cracked corn as a side dish. Coarseness indicates low vitality, slow feeding qualities and sluggishness. The coarse hog, like the elephantine steer, is a relic of the past. When fowls crowd at night, which is the case when the number quartered is greater than the capacity of the house, they sweat. This sweating causes the feathers to rot at the base, giving them the very appearance of molting.

MUSLIN WINDOW FOR COWS

COWS should not stand long facing a window unless the window be covered with muslin. By the way, the muslin window in a cow stable is better far than glass. It gives a subdued light and furnishes ideal ventilation.

The investigation was conducted at the instance of Col. Webb C. Hayes of Fremont, formerly one of the Ohio Commissioners, who recently resigned.

The report of the State Auditor says: "All vouchers were audited and found to have been drawn from the appropriations made by the General Assembly, and all expenditures were made in conformity to law."

HORSE THIEF WANTED HERE HELD IN EAST

A telegram was received by the police department Monday night from the chief of police at Allentown, Pa., stating that W. Brandt had been turned over to the Philadelphia police department on a charge of horse stealing. Brandt was wanted here on a similar charge. It being alleged that he stole a horse belonging to Thomas Kennedy of the Franklin Addition. Captain Swank immediately wired the Philadelphia police to hold Brandt for the Newark department when they were through with him.

ANXIOUS TO LEAVE STATE HOSPITAL

James Casteel was taken into custody on Western avenue yesterday by the police and is being held for the State Hospital authorities. He walked away from that institution Saturday. Casteel claims that he has entirely recovered from his trouble and that he has sought his release without success. He told the officers that a fall sustained a year or more ago resulted in an abscess on his brain and that his mind was affected. He claims to have entirely recovered from his trouble and is anxious to leave the hospital.

EVERY DAY DANGERS TO GUARD AGAINST

It is important for you to know that nearly all cough syrups contain dangerous and deadly drugs like morphine, chloroform and opiates in some form or other. We warn you against these dangerous preparations under the title of "balsams of this" and "balsams of that," or "syrups of this," etc.

Without these drugs, Father John's

NO DYSPEPSIA STOMACH GAS OR HEARTBURN

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia. Indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

MUST BUY 1912 AUTO TAGS SOON

Local Automobile owners, and in fact, all owners of motor cars, in the state, will soon have to again dig down in their pockets for five dollar bills with which to purchase new license tags for the year 1912.

Local automobile dealers and garage owners are expecting the new license in about a month. It is not yet known what the design of the tags will be this year. The designs have been somewhat different every year so far. The 1909 tags had white letters with a blue background and in 1910 the background was magenta color with white letters; this year the tags are the simplest and plainest of all, with plain black letters on a white background.

The cost of the license tags for private cars is five dollars per year. Tags on shop cars cost ten dollars and they may be transferred from one car to another. There is a penalty attached to the owner of a private car who uses a tag on any other car than the one for which the tag was originally intended. Tags must be placed in some conspicuous place on the car and they are mostly "worn" on the rear. They must be placed near a light so that the number may be readily seen at night.

The law compelling all drivers of cars to have chauffeurs' license is also being strictly enforced. Like the license numbers these must be renewed every year. Up until a few years ago city tags were also required, but these have been abolished.

FIRST LAWS OF OHIO.

An original copy of the first laws passed by the first legislature of the State of Ohio was sold by Attorney A. M. Brown, of St. Clairsville. The book was printed at Chillicothe in 1803, the year the session was held, that city being the capital of the state at that time. The first law passed was to provide for the salary of the legislators. Another provides for the purchase of wood for heating the capitol.

TELEGRAM WAS USED FOR TICKET

Miss Juel Ferguson, left Coshocton Monday for her home in Streator, Ill. after an extended visit there, and traveled the entire distance of 400 miles on a telegram instead of the regulation ticket. When Miss Ferguson boarded fast train No. 77 at the Pennsylvania station, she had a station stub, which had been handed her instead of a ticket by the clerk. The mistake was soon discovered and when the train reached Newark, a telegram straightening out matters was handed Miss Ferguson in lieu of the ticket which followed on a later train, but failed to reach Columbus in time.

New Work for Convicts.

Columbus, O., Nov. 23.—Under heavy guard 35 prisoners of the Ohio State Penitentiary were placed at work on the new penitentiary stone quarries, near the Columbus State Hospital. The convict laborers are taken to the quarries and returned to the prison in a special traction car.

Indian Tribe Dying Out.

Black River Falls, Wis., Nov. 23.—The Indian agency here is abolished by orders received from Washington. The reason given is that the Winnebago tribe in this vicinity is dying out so fast that an agency is no longer necessary. Only 60 survive of the branch of a once powerful tribe occupying this neighborhood.

ACTUAL STARVATION

Facts About Indigestion and Its Relief That Should Interest You.

Although Indigestion and Dyspepsia are so prevalent, most people do not thoroughly understand their cause and cure. There is no reason why most people should not eat anything they desire—if they will only chew it carefully and thoroughly. Many actually starve themselves into sickness through fear of eating every good looking, good smelling, and good tasting food, because it does not agree with them.

The best thing to do is to fit yourself to digest any good food.

We believe we can relieve Dyspepsia. We are so confident of this fact that we guarantee and promise to supply the medicine free of all cost to everyone who will use it, who is not perfectly satisfied with the results which it produces. We exact no promises, and put no one under any obligations, whatever. Surely, nothing could be fairer. We are located right here and our reputation should be sufficient assurance of the genuineness of our offer.

We want every one troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia in any form to come to our store and buy a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Take them home and give them a reasonable trial, according to directions. Then, if not satisfied, come to us and get your money back. They are very pleasant to take; they aid to soothe the irritable stomach, to strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, and to promote a healthy and natural bowel action, thus leading to perfect and healthy digestion and assimilation.

A 25c package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets furnishes 15 days' treatment. In ordinary cases, this is sufficient to produce a cure. In more chronic cases, a longer treatment, of course, is necessary, and depends upon the severity of the trouble. For such cases, we have two larger sizes which sell for 50c and 1.00. Remember, 1893, the year the session was held, that city being the capital of the state at that time. The first law passed was to provide for the salary of the legislators. Another provides for the purchase of wood for heating the capitol.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS.

Alleged Conspiracy to Defraud. Pennsylvania railroad officials are investigating a conspiracy believed to exist between a number of shop employees and one of the clerks in charge of pavilions, whereby it is alleged that padding has been going on for some time.

Overtime and Sunday work are said to have been the chief means of defrauding the company. It is said that the clerk would collect a percentage of the overpayments from those drawing them.

Red Lights on Engines.

The engines on the Erie are to be equipped with two red lights instead of one. Heretofore one light was placed at the rear of the train when it was detached, but a new law demands one light on each side. Boxes for carrying the lights are placed now on each side.

Must Have Special Cars.

The Pennsylvania railroad has issued notice to its employees that persons with contagious diseases will not be allowed on passenger trains unless arrangements have been made in advance for a special car. After such use the car must be thoroughly fumigated. Neither will passengers be allowed in baggage cars, except invalids in chairs, who are accompanied by an attendant.

Coal Traffic Closes.

Navigation on the lakes will close early in December and the lake traffic of the railroads will end next week. The coal shipments through Lima this year have eclipsed that of last year and 1912, it is believed, will go far beyond the present figure.

Approve Railroad's Stand.

Lumber dealers and manufacturers of wooden packing cases are assisting the Pennsylvania railroad in widely circulating a recent bulletin issued by the railroad in regard to packing freight for transit. It is said 85 per cent of the packages sent by freight are inadequately packed for shipment because of the flimsy material used for boxes.

OHIO FUEL BILL

Ohio Fuel Oil has advanced to within a fraction of the highest price ever quoted. The company has never paid a dividend, its par value is $1 a share and its market value $8.50 a share. The advance is based upon expectations of a big cash dividend. Stockholders in Ohio Fuel Supply, who received Ohio Fuel as a dividend in 1909, are a tenacious lot of investors, having perfect confidence in the management and for years past their patience has been richly rewarded. Ohio Fuel Oil is one of the sturdy old springs of the parent company.

Big New Sign Just Completed Burns This Evening—Important Matters Before Board.

Secretary Wells says that arrangements have been made to accommodate a large attendance at tonight's meeting of Board of Trade members. In spite of the rain today a large number of members have said they would attend the meeting.

Lunch will be served at six o'clock, followed by a short business session. Several matters of interest are to be considered. It is understood that a petition with numerous signatures will be presented suggesting the transfer of the Country Club ground to the state for a site for the proposed reformatory for women.

Reports will be given on matters that have been accomplished and others under way. A five minute talk on the Humane Society is a part of the program. Arrangements for the annual election are to be made.

The Blair Truck and other autos will be at the Trust building at 5:45 to carry members to the Newark Machine works where the meeting will be held. Those who prefer to go by car will leave the car at the Jewett Car works crossing and walk west along the track to the machine shop. Each member is urged to come and each is asked to bring a friend who is not a member of the Board. Lunch tickets 50c each.

Manager Currie of the Newark Electrical Company, is putting the finishing touches on the big Board of Trade sign on top of the Trust Building today. The service wire has been strung and the 450 lamps forming the lettering and border of the sign are being placed in position. Mr. Currie says the current will be turned on tonight for the first time. The sign which is the largest in town extends 35 feet above the roof of the Trust Building and reads "Newark Board of Trade." After a short time the lettering is to be changed to read "Boost for Newark."

GAINED 30 POUNDS

In Wasting Diseases Your Weight Is the Index of Your Condition.

If you are suffering from lack of blood, or anemia, read this true story of the symptoms of a typical case and of its cure by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as related by Miss Kathleen Lee, of Jefferson, Mass.

"Some years ago," she says, "I was run down to a mere shadow through suffering from anemia. I was sick for ten years from the time I was a young girl and was often confined to bed. My lips and ears were without a particle of color and I was pale and thin. I had a awful cough, my nerves were weak and many nights I could not sleep at all. My appetite was poor, my eyes troubled me, there being black clouds before them and I grew very despondent. I had to give up work and was in this condition until about three years ago when I began to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"I was treated by doctors for a long time but they didn't do me a particle of good. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were recommended to me by a friend and also by a friend who had used them with benefit. I bought three boxes and after taking them felt so much better that I kept on taking them regularly for quite a while. I couldn't be in better health than I am now and my friends often ask me what has made me look so well. I eat heartily, can do a good day's work and my nerves are strong. Since taking the pills I have increased in weight from 90 to 120 pounds."

There must be no guess work about the treatment of pale, anemic girls. Mistakes or delay in the treatment may result in such a serious impairment of their health that they will be weak and sickly during the rest of their lives. In this disease there is a loss of richness in the blood and an entire inability of the system to make good this loss without careful treatment. The most satisfactory way to give the blood the elements which it lacks is through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. A thorough, persistent trial will restore the blood to its normal richness and health.

A new edition of our booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," will be sent free on request to any one interested.

Among the dead who are buried in the two cemeteries in Granville are probably more soldiers of the Revolutionary war, the War of 1812 and the Indian and Civil Wars than any other place of similar size in the country. With the coming of the first settlers from New England, came many veterans who had fought in the war of the Revolution. Their graves are cared for by the Daughters of the Revolution of Granville.

And so it is no wonder that the descendants of these old heroes inherited the patriotism of their fathers, and from 1818 to 1828 the attention of the people of Granville was called to military matters. Regimental and company musters were regularly kept up. There were three uniformed companies, one of infantry, one of artillery and one of cavalry, commanded respectively by Captains Timothy Spelman, Jr., Willard Warner and E. W. Taylor. There were also two companies of militia ("flatwoods" and "barefoots"), one in the south part of the township, commanded by Captain Myron Phelps, and one in the north part commanded by Captain Alpheus Jewett, who afterward became colonel of the regiment.

The first and only cannon ever made in the county was cast at the old Granville furnace, for the artillery company, and was bored out in a stable where the clock factory stood, and mounted for the company. It was used at the celebration at Licking Summit in 1825, at the beginning of the work on the Ohio canal.

Consumption Often Develops From Pneumonia

Consumption readily attacks those who have had pneumonia. Many sufferers from tuberculosis give a history of having had pneumonia. The lungs thus weakened are more easily attacked by the germs that cause consumption. For all those with "weak lungs," especially those who have had pneumonia, Eckman's Alternative is the appropriate remedy. Cures of Consumption are accomplished by Eckman's Alternative. But take it in time. There is no wisdom in waiting until tuberculosis is established. Health is never fully valued until sickness comes. A remarkable recovery followed 1336 N. 41st St., Philadelphia, Pa. "Gentlemen: I wish I had known of Eckman's Alternative two years ago. Since taking it, following a bad attack of pneumonia, I have gained twenty-eight pounds, and I cannot but be very thankful to the Almighty God for the great blessing and change of health it has brought me."

To Attack Two Cent Fare.

It is probable that within a short time suits will be filed by the Pennsylvania, the Baltimore and Ohio, the New York Central and other trunk lines of Ohio and Indiana, attacking the 2-cent passenger rate law in these states. It is said in railroad circles that the papers in the suits are now being prepared and will be ready for filing within a short time.

Some months ago the Interstate commerce commission gave the railroads until May 1 of next year to adjust their interstate and intrastate passenger rates, and at the same time frankly told the roads that if they were not satisfied to operate under the state 2-cent fare laws they should seek to have them declared invalid. It is understood that unless steps are taken previous to May 1 to test these laws the interstate commerce commission will proceed to make all interstate fares conform to the state fares.

It is also understood that roads like the Hocking Valley and other local lines having electric competition will not be interested in the suits. In the case of the Hocking Valley and several other lines which are paralleled by electric lines the present rates could not be advanced, even were the 2-cent fare law to be declared invalid, and at present their rates are below the standard established by the law of the state. It will be the big trunk lines, with their through business, which will make the tests of the law, and they will do it to prevent, if possible, their through rates being adjusted to conform with their intrastate rates.

YOUTH IN PEN WILL RECEIVE BOARD'S PAROLE

Sent Up From Toledo When 12 Years Of Age For Killing a Little Playmate.

Columbus, Nov. 28.—For the first time in the history of Ohio, a holiday parole was granted yesterday when the state board in special session, signed papers that will permit Danny Rosenbecker, aged 21, youthful Toledo murderer, to walk out of the penitentiary Thursday. He will be cared for by Messames Frank Tallmadge and Lucy Clark, Rev. Theodore Irving Reese, rector of Trinity Episcopal church, and Adjutant Walter Collins of the Volunteers of America.

Inspired by a good Thanksgiving day dinner, Danny probably will commence to learn a trade at the Jeffrey Manufacturing company's plant and his evenings will be taken up with a night school.

"I'm going to keep my parole," said Danny yesterday, "and I'm going to learn to do things and do them right when I get a chance to do them out in the world with other people."

Convicted at the age of 12 for the murder of a playmate, Arthur Slanteau, and sentenced to the penitentiary for 20 years, people all over the state revolted at the idea of placing behind state's prison bars a lad whose crime many held as less criminal than the prosecution painted it.

With others, Mayor Brand Whitlock of Toledo bent every effort several months ago to secure the release of the boy. In 1908 he was transferred to the Mansfield Reformatory on orders of Governor Harris. It was learned that Governor Harris had no authority to do this and in less than a year ago Danny was returned to the penitentiary.

While in prison the lad worked in the engineering department and attended night school. When, for the first time, he heard the gate at the penitentiary clank behind him, Danny, a Pole, could not speak English. Now he talks English with ease.

Local persons of philanthropic inclinations for years have watched his progress. They have inspired him to be well behaved and to learn all that can be learned behind prison walls. When word reached them yesterday that he had been given a chance to make good, their delight was extravagant.

Under the law, young Rosenbecker has three years of his parole to serve. He cannot leave the state. He probably will remain in Columbus.

In Ohio it is customary for the governor to pardon a prisoner each holiday. He probably will do so this Thanksgiving. The parole, however, up to yesterday, never was used as a holiday gift.

John Tower endeavored to sell his wife Elizabeth at auction in London in June 1817, but the authorities prevented the sale.

Special Prosecutor Benson questioned the witness closely in regard to his life's history, but failed to shake the witness's composure.

"Do you know Emil W. Strouss?" the prosecutor asked.

"I do not."

"Have you been back to the scene of the shooting for the purpose of testifying here?"

"I have."

"On the fact that Easton made no effort to go to Patterson after the shooting and had made no report of what he had seen the prosecutor dwelt with emphasis.

"You did not go back to see whether the man was dead or alive," he asked.

"You sauntered away from the scene?"

"I did."

"You had seen a man assault a woman and the woman shoot him down and you did not tell."

"No, sir."

Easton was the last witness for the defense, and the state began its testimony in rebuttal, its first witness being Mrs. Mary K. Patterson, mother-in-law of the defendant.

The purpose of the testimony was to impeach the defendant's on a number of points. She told of a family conference just prior to her daughter-in-law's trip to Europe, regarding the advisability of investing $1,500 in a printing establishment for Patterson in Chicago. The prisoner had denied that such a conference took place.

The witness declared that her son was ill at her home at a time when the younger Mrs. Patterson had declared Patterson assaulted her. The son was so weak that he had to be lifted up in bed to bed. He had been taken to a sanitarium on a stretcher. She contradicted the defendant on a number of other points.

When court adjourned there was a prospect of the case going to the jury by tonight. The state finished its testimony in rebuttal.

Charles H. Pugh, principal of the school at Sandoval, Ill., from which Prosecutor Benson asked Mrs. Patterson if she had not been expelled, declared that in the 16 years he had been at the head of the school attended by Gertrude Gibson when she was about 13 years of age, he had never expelled anybody.

Attorney Milton, of the defense, offered in evidence Patterson's bank book showing a deposit of the much discussed $1,500 received after the wedding of Gertrude Gibson to Chas. A. Patterson. Court ruled it out again until proper proof of its identity was offered.

Police Matron Mary J. Pate testified that Mrs. Patterson's left cheek was swollen on the day she was brought to the jail. Mrs. Nettie White stated that she had witnessed an assault by Patterson on his wife in the streets of this city last July. Witness remonstrated with Patterson and suggested calling a policeman, but she said, Mrs. Patterson replied:

"No, don't do that he's sick."

Patterson declared to the would-be peace maker that he would do what he liked with his wife.

Mrs. G. A. Jones, who lived near the Patterson's bungalow, testified to overhearing portions of a quarrel between Patterson and the defendant last September, nine days before the homicide. Patterson's last words on this occasion were "— you, I will kill you."

ECZEMA REMEDY ALSO WASHES PIMPLES AWAY

No remedy that I have ever sold for Eczema, Psoriasis, and all other diseases of the skin has given more thorough satisfaction than the D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema.

A 25c trial bottle can be secured at once.

My patrons find that D. D. D. not only gives instant relief to the itching, burning skin, quickly driving out all the disease germs, but it is also the most delightful wash for the complexion they ever used. Absolutely harmless and pleasant to use, D. D. D. cleanses the skin of all minor impurities, such as rashes and pimples, over night, and leaves the skin clear and smooth as that of a child.

It is now generally known that there is nothing that can equal D. D. D. as a household remedy for all skin troubles, no matter what they are.

I, myself, am so fully convinced of the merits of this wonderful remedy that I will charge you nothing if the first full size bottle of D. D. D. does not make good every claim.

Better drop in and talk it over with me anyhow.

TRANSFER OF FUNDS MADE NECESSARY

By Special Police Duty and Loss of Revenue to City—Special Meeting of Council to Remedy Trouble.

At Monday night's special meeting of the city council, an ordinance was passed after the rules had been suspended to transfer funds. This was made necessary by several conditions. The special police which were necessary because of trouble in a West Newark plant was one of the conditions and the loss of the Alken tax was another.

The sum of $1,550.76 was transferred from the general fund of the safety department to the police fund to take care of the pay roll and current bills due December 1. In order to meet the pay roll and pay bills for the month of December, it will be necessary for the safety department to borrow $3,500 to $4,000.

The meeting was called for the purpose of considering the ordinance to transfer funds. A number of other minor matters were brought up for consideration of the councilmen.

A report from the street committee regarding the Valandigham street sewer recommended that the sewer be constructed on South Third street and Baker street.

The committee on public service recommended that the council instruct the clerk to notify the railroads here that the public service commission of the state ordered a crossing watchman at First street; pending the installation of the automatic warning signal. The report was adopted.

The director of service in a communication to council reported that the Arcade Realty company had erected a roof over the alley between the Arcade and the rear of the Block building. He also reported that the Licking Light and Power company was erecting poles and cross arms in the alley alongside the Orpheum building. The report was received and filed.

The ordinance to transfer funds, which was passed under suspended rules, provided for the transfer of $300 to the health fund to take care of expenditures occasioned by the recent epidemic of contagious diseases in the city; $150 to the special police fund to pay the patrolmen for special duty at the Wehrle plant and $1,550.76 from the general fund of the safety department to the police fund to meet expenses for the current month.

ARRESTED ON WAY TO FUNERAL OF A RELATIVE

Joseph Brashure of Columbus, was in Newark long enough Monday night to run afoul of the police department and he was a guest at the domicile of Chas. Heger, turnkey at the city prison. Joseph dropped off a B. & O. train from Columbus and was waiting for the north bound train to Mansfield, where he was bound to attend the funeral of a relative.

Before leaving Columbus, Joseph had imbibed pretty freely of some powerful stimulant and when he landed here he was, in the common expression of the day, "pretty well offed." His condition amused some of those who were at the station and they ventured to laugh at his antics.

This aroused Joseph's "dutch" and he threatened to clean up with some of his tormentors. When it was time for him to board the Mansfield train, the railroad officials refused to permit him to enter the coach.

He was arrested and taken to the city prison while his wife sought Captain Swank at police headquarters, where she related the story. She wanted him released last night, but was advised to let him remain in jail over night and seek lodging in the city.

In police court he pleaded guilty to the charge, was fined, paid the amount and boarded a morning train for Mansfield, where the couple hoped to arrive in time for the funeral obsequies over the body of the relative.

His wife was suffering from heart trouble and the arrest of her husband caused her much suffering.
